Alligator Math
Greater Than, Less Than and Equal To

My friend the alligator loves to eat and he’s always very hungry and a little bit greedy. Because he is so hungry, he will always compare two piles of things and choose to eat the bigger pile with the most in it. Help him find food to fill him up.

Cut out the pictures and use them to compare groups of things. If one group has more than then other then have him face the bigger group. If the groups are both the same size then he will look at both and not be sure which one to eat first because they are equal to each other.
